John Schuessler, a technical manager for McDonnell-Douglas Corp., said "Aerospace engineers should join in the quest for an explanation to the UFO phenomena that have occurred around the world in recent years.

"Who better would have the capability to find the solution to this problem than aerospace engineers who deal in sophisticated flying vehicles?" asked Schuessler who is working on the crew support system for the space shuttle program.

Schuessler, of Clear Lake City (near Houston) TX, says UFO's have been sighted by too many people, including experts in too many parts of the world for aerospace engineers to ignore them.

"The world of UFO's is just as real as the world of engineering" Schuessler says. "Airline pilots see them every day."

For example, back in April of this year, a UFO was spotted circling San Antonio and tracked on the radar screen at the San Antonio airport control tower.

Extensive contacts with senior FAA personnel in Houston and San Antonio, however failed to substantiate his claims of extensive sightings by airline pilots and the radar-tracking incident in particular.

On the other hand, when Schuessler attributes numerous UFO sightings to Dr. Harley D. Rutledge head of the Dept. of Physics at Southeastern Missouri State University he receives support for his contentions.

Rutledge attributes the most recent sightings to meteors, but said he has sighted 140 unidentified objects during 130 plus nights of observing with special equipment, since becoming interested in the subject in 1973.

While some of the sightings were not bonafied UFO's he said about 25 were "truly incredible and unquestionable UFO's."

Schuessler said the study of UFO's is "a field ripe for good work."

UFO's are "very tantalizing to a person in the aerospace field" he said.

THE BIG APPLE

By

James S. Rigberg

I like THE BIG APPLE (New York City) because:

- 1- I am Not pushed into the subway train. In Tokyo, men are paid to do just that !
- 2- My telephone bills are reasonable compared to Italy, France, Germany and in Brazil and Japan you would have to pay anywhere from $1,000 to $5,000 for installation and buy a company bond!
- 3- AIR POLLUTION- The air is so bad in Tokyo, that in stores you may purchase a tube of oxygen to revive yourself.
- 4- PURCHASES - for any given item is in your favor here. That is one of the reasons millions of visitors come here each year.
- 5- THE STREETS ARE SAFER THAN YOU THINK!
On Friday, Oct. 28, 1977 10 A.M. From this book store I walked to the 7th avenue subway and boarded a B.M.T. train to 28th street and Broadway. From this point I walked to 12th street to pick up a book. I returned 12 P.M. to the store. The GOOD NEWS is that I observed only TWO policemen in the subway. The point is that the streets are SAFER THAN YOU THINK!

More good news from the Big Apple will follow. Readers are welcomed to send in their comments to this column.

UFO seen

October 31 / 1977

What was it? That's the question four young people from the Yorkton area are asking themselves after seeing a strange apparition in the sky last Sunday evening, northwest of Yorkton.

Lovadie Laube and Wally Derrow of Springside were driving home on the Buchanan Road some 13 miles northeast of Good Spirit Lake when they suddenly noticed a bright light shining on the horizon. It was approximately 1 or 1:30.

It was hovering over a field, recalled Lovadie. "We first thought it was just a star, but it was so bright and so low over the horizon we stopped to take a closer look."

Using a pair of binoculars the two pin-pointed the light and began to notice the closer details of the UFO.

"It was first a bright red and then it turned colour to green and then yellow and then it changed to a stable colour, sort of a mauve."

On top of the bright light the pair could also see a smaller duller light that remained stationed atop the larger light. Looking through the binoculars Lovadie and Wally could also barely discern smaller coloured lights above the main light.

The UFO continually kept moving in quick, 100-yard movements, Lovadie added. It would move up, down and sideways in an instant. "It was moving so fast we couldn't follow it with the binoculars."

However it remained over relatively the same area for almost two hours, during which two more young people, Debbie Djokovich and Doug Halek, joined Wally and Lovadie in tracking the object.

Is it possible that the light could have, in fact, just been a meteor or a star? "It was so bright," recalled Lovadie, "it almost hurt your eyes to watch

it. It couldn't have been a meteor."

The light also disappeared occasionally, added Laube, only to reappear a few moments later.

Lovadie described the most unusual aspect of the entire incident. "Two beams from the light suddenly shone down and illuminated a large area beneath it...The beams covered an area almost half-a-mile wide. It was so bright it almost looked like daylight."

Lovadie admits that she has always believed that UFOs existed. "After all there have

THE UFO ENIGMA

The Definitive Explanation of the UFO Phenomenon

Donald H. Menzel and Ernest H. Taves

This is the book that proves that "flying saucers" are not extraterrestrial vehicles bringing little green men from outer space, but illusions produced by easily explainable meteorological and optical phenomena.

Concentrating on the most widely publicized UFO sightings in this country from 1963 to 1975, Drs. Donald Menzel and Ernest Taves show in each case what really caused people to believe they were seeing flying saucers. A number were produced by atmos-

SOCORRO 'SAUCER' IN A PENTAGON PANTRY

This is a book unlike any you have ever read. It is widely known that a UFO landing was reported at Socorro, New Mexico, on April 24, 1964. But most of what this book on the Socorro case tells has never before been revealed.

Socorro 'Saucer' in a Pentagon Pantry is the result of five years' intensive investigation and writing. The author is well-known UFO researcher Ray Stanford. He describes how the U.S. intelligence community managed, until now, to conceal from the public the existence of physical evidence that a technologically advanced craft of unknown origin landed at Socorro. But that is only the beginning.

While Dr. J. Allen Hynek, then scientific pheric conditions, such as ice crystals or unusual lighting effects and clouds; others were the result of strange tricks played by radar; in a few instances UFO images were created by real spacecraft leaving or re-entering the atmosphere; and some sightings, of course, were pure hoaxes.

Also included in this book are a brief history of man's fascination with celestial phenomena—from biblical times to the present; an evaluation of the theories of von Däniken and of the Bermuda Triangle mystery; and a discussion of why people so firmly resist rational explanations of what they believe to be "flying saucers."

Scientific and completely up to date, this is the definitive study of the UFO phenomenon, with thought-provoking evidence for believers and skeptics alike.

consultant to the Air Force's Project Blue Book, was trying unsuccessfully to get military authorities to make a serious effort to find witnesses to the landing (other than Lonnie Zamora, a Socorro policeman). Stanford was talking to two female witnesses. He reveals that there were at least twelve witnesses beside Zamora, and even names and shows photos of two additional male observers of the landing.

In Socorro 'Saucer' we travel with Stanford and colleagues into a laboratory of the space materials division of Goddard Space Flight Center at Greenbelt, Maryland. There, metallic slivers actually scraped from the UFO landing gear onto an adjacent rock were analyzed. We learn of the strange result of that analysis, and discover the reason the intelligence community found it necessary to attempt to hide the facts.

This account is replete with documentation. Even the most seasoned UFO investigator will find vitally important new facts and evidence in nearly every chapter of this book. Socorro 'Saucer' could touch off a UFO-logical 'Watergate' that might once and for all blow open the doors of what the author calls "the Pentagon saucer pantry."

PSYCHIC SPY

The story of an astounding man

Here for the first time is the incredible story of Dr. Ernesto A. Montgomery, the Jamaican psychic and faith-healer who used his uncanny abilities on behalf of the Allies in World War II.

As a sixteen-year-old private in the Jamaican Home Guard, Montgomery was assigned to a special Psychic Division of British Intelligence: Through prolonged periods of soul-travel (projection of the soul out of the body into psychic levels), he arrived at amazingly accurate prophecies. For example, he played a previously secret Clifford Linedecker depicts Dr. Montgomery's continued development and achievement as a minister, faith-healer, and psychic advisor—including his many startling (and correct) predictions about such events as the assassinations of John and Robert Kennedy and Martin Luther King, the gruesome Manson murders, the untimely deaths of Marilyn Monroe and Errol Flynn, and the return to power of Sir Winston Churchill.

Also outlined are his spiritual philosophy, methods of faith-healing, and techniques for self-realization and self-help. Finally, read his mind-boggling predictions for the future.

Clifford L. Linedecker was born in Plymouth, Indiana. He is a long-time newspaperman, working as a reporter for the Philadelphia Inquirer before role in the timing of the Normandy invasion.

Storms were predicted for June 1944 but Montgomery discovered—through soul-travel—that the weather would break on June 6–7. Invasion plans proceeded. However, as of June 5, hurricane-force winds were buffeting the French coast. Then, on the sixth, the storm broke and D day was on.

In 1945 I had a nose operation at Polyclinic Hospital, performed by a private surgeon, and complications developed as the hospital was short of beds and they never gave me a chance to convalesce, but discharged me two days after the operation was performed.

Consequently, I began to bleed profusely as soon as I arrived home, and this bleeding continued on for three days, after which the ambulance from Polyclinic Hospital was finally sent to pick me up and return me to the hospital for final treatment.

Now, what has this to do with UFOs or spacemen? Well, I'm not sure, but while I was at the hospital, a remarkable stranger appeared at the fourth floor ward, where I was, and without saying a word, he beamed a ray of light or energy into my mind, as if to comfort and reassure me. I'm not even certain that it was mental telepathy, but the impression of the vibrational beam entering my mind, was very very strong, and I seemed to say "Lo, or hello, here I am! All is well!"

This man stood there in the room, very silent and looked at me in a most dignified sort of way. His appearance resembled that of an ancient Egyptian prince, or a Hindu Maharajah. His skin was of a light copper color, or pimento color. Some authors claim that is the normal color of space people.

I'm sorry that I did not speak to him, but my surprise was considerable, and I was very weak, physically. All I could think of was getting back to bed in a hurry. I never really recovered from the great loss of blood, as I've been hounded by backaches, migraine and muscle spasms ever since. The incredible part was that I pulled through and survived.

Maybe that is one of the reasons why the UFOs and their occupants hang around, to help guys like me to to stay alive, but of course, this is only conjecture.

While mountain climbing on Mount Adams, N.H. with some friends in 1962, we paused to rest awhile, and sat down on some rocks and gazed at the sky, thinking of UFOs. Soon, in the center of a huge mass of clouds, a perfectly round hole appeared, and through this opening we could see the sunshine and a patch of clear blue sky. Everywhere else we looked it was cloudy, and we took this to be a sign that the space-people were saying hello to us.

In 1974, I was standing in front of my house at sunset, and I looked westward to enjoy the sunset, which was an exceptionally pretty one. There among the clouds lit up by the sunset appeared a triangle of light, resting on a cloud. The clouds were rosy-hued, but the triangle glowed in a lighter color, and stood out sharply amidst the clouds in the sunset. As the sun set, the triangle drifted slowly northward.

I report these incidents because, as I understand things, all these happenings were out of the ordinary, involving as it did, sights and feelings not of the ordinary run of the mill sort.

One more funny thing happened recently in July of 1977. I had an argument with Con Edison On July 11, and on the 13th the BIG BLACKOUT occurred. The timing could have been only coincidence .. yet, the authorities never were able to identify just WHAT exactly caused the blackout. They say that the last blackout in 1965 was caused by UFO interference, and perhaps this one also was caused by UFOs.

Are we being monitored by the spacepeople?
I think so.

been so many stories and reports, there just had to be something out there." Her brother and sister, in fact, had reported seeing an unidentified object.

But she added, "It sure gives you a strange feeling when you actually see one yourself."

After first seeing it she and her companion tried to figure out a rational reason for the light, she said, but "there was just no other explanation for what we were seeing."

The incident was reported to CFS Yorkton the following day.

REGENERATION

By Robert DiLorenzo

How often have you felt "down in the dumps?" Do you not feel like someone has hit your blue notes! Yet the majority of us do nothing whatsoever to modify the low depression areas, finding life all the more a partnership of heartaches.

The ever magic, precious ointment that restores your spark of life is "positive cerebration." The beauty in the soul quickly responds to the higher faith which can be invoked any time you aspire to Divine Guidance. One of life's gifts to you is reserved Grace of invisible sunlight which is delicately interlocked in the middle cushion of your heart.

Whenever you feel tempted to be a steward for circumstances, this is the time to give your heart the opportunity to release this bounteous gift.

In a split second, you will find the agony of distress annulled by the communion of strength surrounding you. So it is futile to afflict oneself with burdens which need not exist.

Proud of our readers who for 12 years have kept the faith, that is in knowing that we have been publishing the truth about the UFO's.
